Subject: api

Difficulty Level: All

1. What is the main benefit of using parallel APIs in a system?

Options:

a) Reduced latency for data processing

b) Enhanced security for sensitive data

c) Simplified database management

d) Improved error handling capabilities

2. Which of these statements BEST describes a parallel API column?

Options:

a) A column that processes data in a sequential manner.

b) A column that allows multiple processes to access and modify data simultaneously.

c) A column that stores data in a compressed format to save space.

d) A column that is used for indexing and searching data efficiently.